Membership Recruitment Event

What do you value most about being a member of ANEW? For some it's the opportunity to network with professional women and grow their circle of influence. Others enjoy the monthly programming and the chance to hear topics that advance women in our community both personally and professionally. Still others enjoy the chance to form friendships and learn from peers.

We all have a reason we joined ANEW and a reason we stay involved. As you consider your "why", we challenge you to think about other professional women in your network who might enjoy learning more about our organization. The Membership Recruitment Event is the perfect time to invite a guest to hear more about ANEW and meet some of our members while enjoying appetizers and wine in a relaxed setting.

President's Letter

Hello and Happy September,
Stop what you are doing and put business cards in your purse! This month we have a “Just Networking” meeting and you will want to make sure to exchange your contact information with the ANEW members at your table.

These networking meetings are a great way to get out of your comfort zone at ANEW and sit at a table filled with women you don’t know. If you always gravitate toward the same table filled with friends, try something new this month. Trust me; you will likely have new and interesting conversations with great women who could bring new business connections your way.

Some of my favorite ANEW meetings over the years are because of the women I met at a “Just Networking” meeting. Expect to see me plop my purse down to claim a spot at a table that is on the other side of the room from where I typically sit. I challenge you to do the same.

I look forward to networking with you later this month on September 22nd.

See you soon,
Angie Richards Cheek

Membership Profile

*5 Things you don't know about
Kerrie Weinzapfel*

Describe your career path to reach your current position:

I graduated from Indiana University with a degree in accounting. I began my career in public accounting, became a CPA and spent 10 years in client service for a regional CPA firm. I ultimately became involved in administration and managed two offices of the firm (Evansville and Bloomington.) After two years of CPA firm management, I transitioned to the legal field and spent about 15 years as Firm Administrator for an Evansville based law firm with multiple offices throughout the state. In 2017, I had the opportunity to join Farmer Scott Ozete Robinson & Schmitt LLP at its inception. Being part of creating an organization from the beginning is so exciting and satisfying.

What is your greatest achievement? Personal and Professional:

My greatest personal achievement is our children, Alexander and Bailey. They are the greatest thing we will ever do. Not that I can really claim a lot of credit because they do the work to be the people they are, but I am proud of any small impact I had on helping them be kind, generous, hard-working and all around positive people. I think the career achievement that means the most to me is that I have been able to balance the things I wanted to do as a family, the time I wanted to dedicate to philanthropy and have a satisfying career. I know they say you can't have it all and I certainly don't get the balance right every day, but as I look back, I feel like I have been able to find a balance that works for me.

Where would you like to travel? I would love to vacation narrow boating in England or Norway.

One of my most relaxing habits is not really a habit, but I find exercise is my relaxation. I enjoy playing tennis, walking, hiking and canoeing.

Also a bottle of red wine, a group of great friends and fire in the fireplace is a great way to complete any day.

What does ANEW mean to you?
 What could be better than an organization of women dedicated to supporting other women!
