Letter from the President

Hello Fellow ANEW Members,

I wanted to ask you a question. Do you know another ANEW member who is successful in her career? Do you know a member that gives it her all day-in and day-out? Has she served as a mentor to others? Or does she give selflessly to community organizations? I bet you do know someone... So, I ask that you consider nominating this person for the Woman of Action award.

If you attended the membership meeting last month, Angie Cooley talked about our Woman of Action award. I want to share some information with you about the award as well. The Woman of Action award is an award given out at ANEW's Annual Meeting in October to an ANEW member who exemplifies remarkable talent, skill and community service. Our members nominate another deserving member for consideration. I really encourage all of you to take the time to think about who would fit this description - I know there are many in our organization that would be eligible! Please take the time to nominate her so we can recognize a fellow member for their efforts. All you need to do is head on over to our website and complete the form. If you have questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to Angie Cooley or me.

I hope to see all of you at the membership meeting this month.

Sincerely,
Jill Rawley
ANEW President 2018

5 Things you Didn't Know about Julie Brauser

1. When she was in Elementary School, she was very shy. When she tells her husband this he just laughs.
2. When she was in college, she changed her major more times than she could count which makes her feel hypocritical when she advises students to have a plan because she has never had a plan with her career. She navigates to whatever interests her.
3. When she was little she wanted to be a CIA agent when she grew up.
4. She would love to vacation in Hawaii and/or Australia for the wonderful sightseeing opportunities and for relaxation.
5. Her lottery winnings would go to her family and her church.

Julie recently accepted a new position with Indiana Digital Learning School and is the Career & Technical Education Coordinator. Julie has been an ANEW member since December of 2012. She currently serves as the Treasurer for ANEW on the Board of Directors.

Thank you, Julie, for sharing with us!

Job Postings are available on our ANEW Website

If your company or organization has a job opening that would benefit a member of ANEW, consider posting this on our website under our Job Postings. Contact Lori Otmann if you have a listing.
