Get to know Claire Bosma

Claire's career started in a family advertising business after she graduated Indiana University with a double major emphasizing public relations (Journalism) and campaigning (Political Science). After nearly 10 years working as an Account Executive and then an owner, she transitioned into healthcare marketing. In late 2014 she took a position as the Marketing Director for a large physician practice, eventually being promoted to Business Development Officer. Late last year, she started a new position as a Strategist for Ten Adams, an advertising agency that specializes only in healthcare.

Letter from the President

Fellow ANEW Members,

Last month ANEW held its first ever Virtual Brown Bag Luncheon and it was a hit among members! Many of us were able to join together to share everything from tech tips to mental health tips to navigating business issues. Currently, we are putting together a summary of ideas discussed in the respective sessions to share with members who weren't able to join us virtually. Be sure to watch your email!

Recently I participated in a session discussing the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People by Stephen R. Covey. If you aren't familiar with Stephen Covey's 7 Habits, I encourage you to explore what he has to say.

7 Habits of Highly Effective People

1. Be Proactive

professional networking in a traditional sense, since I'm is not involved in a lot of local B2B or B2Consumer communications. However, associating with top-notch professional women in the region has connected me with non-profits, community leaders, and mentors in an amazing way. ANEW is an incredibly supportive group, and it's a great joy to serve on committees and now the Board. I would encourage anyone that feels like they haven't found their place in ANEW to join a committee. "You will find your tribe!"

Claire has been an ANEW member since July of 2013.

Orientation for ANEW Members

New Member Orientation transitions to ZOOM Video Conferencing Technology

Due to the restrictions placed on group gatherings resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic mitigation response, ANEW's New Member Orientation utilizes ZOOM Video Conferencing technology and finds definite benefits that will improve the effectiveness of future New Member Orientations.

- Greater convenience for ANEW members enhances attendance by eliminating travel to and from the training venue while also cutting the out of pocket costs of attending a lunch meeting.
- Alohana Jackson was also able to demonstrate to new members how to navigate the ANEW website and register for future meetings and events, update their profile and add visitors while completely eliminating the difficulty of explaining website navigation using sheets of paper.
- Many felt the use of Video Conferencing technology enhanced participation during the virtual meeting.

Going forward, Committee Chairperson, Alohana Jackson is excited to further develop the use of Video

Conferencing for future New Member Orientation

- . _ . . . . . . . . . .
- 2. Begin with the End in Mind
- 3. Put First Things First
- 4. Think Win-Win
- 5. Seek First to Understand, Then to be Understood
- 6. Synergize
- 7. Sharpen the Saw

Like many of you, I have revisited these habits several times over the years. The various seasons in our lives call for focus in different areas and bring new perspectives. The same can be said for an organization. By beginning with the end in mindthe end being our purpose to support and encourage women as they strive to achieve success in business, industry and the professions - ANEW has been able to accomplish great things as an organization, celebrate business and individual successes, and provide resources for growth and development for almost 40 years! By being proactive, we have found innovative ways to remain connected in our current season, such as the Virtual Brown Bag Luncheon and Virtual Orientation. Finally, as an organization and as individual members we continue to sharpen the saw through relationship development (networking), accountability and education.

I am proud to be a member of ANEW! If you are as well, I encourage you to share our organization with other professional women. Information for prospective members can be found on the website or by contacting our Membership Chair, Lindsay Charles.

I hope to see you soon!

Michele Graham ANEW President 2020

P.S. There is a prize at year-end for the member who sponsors the most new members during the year so don't be shy!
